Mountaineers In Close Game As Auburn Winner

Leaping Catch Deprives Of Margin For Victory

When Auburn's left fielder, Gailbreath, snagged Frank Giovannoni's long line drive off the the top of the left field fence at the local park in the last half of the tenth inning Sunday afternoon, one of the most exciting and closely contested games of the Placer Nevada League series came to an abrupt ending.

The score: Auburn 20, Truckee 19.

The see-saw game went into the tenth inning with the score tied 12 to 12. In the top half Auburn scored eight times off seven hits and it looked like the end for the Mountaineers. In Truckee's half, however, Christie hit a single, Giovannoni a double and Martin singled to score the two runs. Conners got a pass and Mike Korich hit a homer which scored three runs. Briner singled, Ulsheimer singled and Faight singled before the rally slowed. Faight was caught off second and Baxter got on an error. Christie popped out to the shortstop and Giovannoni came to bat. He connected and the ball screamed into left field. Gailbreath ran back, leaped high upon the fence and pulled the ball out of the clouds to end the game in a spectacular manner.

The locals staged a seven run rally in the eighth to overtake the visitors who had held an undisputed lead to that time. From then on it was hit and run, Truckee scoring 16 runs in the last three innings and Auburn collecting 11.

Faight led the Mountaineers in hitting, getting five for five. Korich, who was in a batting slump during the first half of the season, came across with two for two after he relieved Dugan behind the plate in the seventh. Conners, who played a fast and errorless game at third, got three for five and Bill Briner, a new pitcher who started the game for Truckee, got three for five, Ulsheimer got three for six.

Manager Dolley kept Briner on the mound until the eighth inning when he was replaced by Firstbaseman Christie. Christie had trouble and Faight was pull- from second base to take over. Auburn, too, had pitching troubles. Mareno was hit 17 times before he was replaced by Keskeys, who lasted briefly and Hurley was put in in the tenth to complete the game.

Truckee's eighth inning rally was aided by Umpire Grey who overlooked a play at the plate but who changed his decision after a confab with Umpire Lippert. Conners was coming in on a dead heat with the ball. Catcher Yokota made a pass at the runner but missed him. The play was fast and Yokota was between the runner and the ump, who called the runner out but later decided he had erred. The decision started the seven run rally.

Next Sunday the Old Timers meet the Mountaineers here in an exhibition game at 2:30 p.m.

Welcome Sign Is Installed By Local Chamber

The Chamber of Commerce's huge welcoming sign was installed Sunday opposite the Chinchilla Farm, three miles west of Truckee by Cliff Ellis, Jerry McEwen and Earl Stice, and with the exception of a few touch-ups, such as painting and landscaping, the long anticipated project is complete.

The sign measures 25 feet by 15 feet and represents the work of several local people and the Sierra Pacific Power Company which supplied the cedar poles. The design was originated by William Englehart Jr. and the engraving was done by Jack and Cliff Ellis of the Shell Station. The planks were supplied by Ed Crandall and Ed Jenkins and Slim Hintz assisted in the work of preparing the grounds.

Reg Smart, president of the chamber, this week expressed his appreciation to those who have assisted in the work which was done entirely voluntarily.

The sign reads, "Welcome to Truckee, Cal., Vacationland."

CAPITAL YOUTH IS DROWNED IN CREEK IN AREA

The body of 18 year old Joseph Navarro, Sacramento, was recovered from Meeks Creek at Lake Tahoe Monday after a two-day search had been conducted for the missing youth.

Navarro was last seen fishing on the creek at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. He had stopped to fish while his family moved their camp and when he did not show up that evening, they presumed he had gone to the previous location.

A search of the vicinity failed to reveal him and the El Dorado County sheriff's office formed a possee and the search resulted in the body being found in the water. The missing youth's uncle, Richard Yniguez, a member of the party vacationing in the Meeks Bay area, said the boy was subject to fainting spells and it is believed he toppled into the water during an attack.

The body was found about two miles above Meeks Bay.

Girl Is Injured By Speedboat; Probe Planned

Coast Guard Studying Jurisdiction Over Fallen Leaf

Linda Larson, 13, a summer resident at Fallen Leaf, in the Lake Tahoe district, was under medical treatment today for injuries suffered when the boat in which she was riding on Fallen Leaf Lake was struck by a speedboat.

Deputy Sheriff Fred Brenzel, who investigated, said witnesses told him the speedboat was piloted by David Macabee, 19, son of L. Cedric Macabee of Palo Alto.

Brenzel said the witnesses added Macabee was "cutting capers" with his speedboat when the craft sheared through the sides of an outboard powered boat in which Linda and her brother, John, 16, were riding. Linda, Brenzel said, was thrown from the boat and suffered cuts, bruises and the loss of several teeth. She was to undergo an x-ray examination to determine the extent of her injuries.

Linda and John, the deputy reported, were towing a smaller boat in which Margaret Deanesly, 15, another summer resident, was riding.

Macabee was not cited pending an investigation by the Coast Guard as to whether the accident occurred in navigable water. It was the Coast Guard which preferred charges against Phil Davis, Oakland automobile dealer, last summer after the propellor of his speedboat sheared off the feet of Imogene Wittsche, pretty young Roseville high school girl, as she was swimming in Lake Tahoe.

Sun Beams

by Walter M. Barrett

There were several motor vehicle accidents during the past weekend. Fortunately, none of them was of a serious nature, although a number of people suffered minor injuries and all of the cars involved were demolished or badly damaged. With traffic at a maximum, it is not unusual for accidents to occur, but the surprising part of the reports was that some of the drivers had been drinking. It is certainly in bad taste, to say the least, for a driver to indulge when he knows conditions on the highway are going to be difficult. Even the most careful driver is not safe when he is confronted by another motorist too near drunk to have full control of his vehicle. May we again suggest that if you are going to drink that you don't drive. That gives the other fellow a break you should expect.

During mid-winter, we in this area are inclined to find considerable fault with the weather, but along about this time of the year, with reports coming in from the valley areas of temperatures far over the 100 mark, we can feel fortunate indeed. Cool breezes, warm sunshine and nights made for sound sleeping provide us with an ideal summer climate and the people who wonder in the winter why we live in this region change their tunes during the summer season. Our winters may sometimes be rugged but our summers more than make up for the discomfort of the cold.

Eighty members and guests of the Wyethia Club from Truckee, Lake Tahoe and Donner Summit were present at the annual silver tea, given in the garden of the Walter Loynd home at Gateway Park Friday afternoon between the hours 2 and 5. Mrs. Ray Scott was general chairman and assisting in serving were Mesdames A. P. Leitch, Robert Leamon, E. L. Loynd, John Gracik and Harold Langille.

The varied musical entertainment, arrranged by Mrs. L. D. Nelson and Mrs. I. Firpo, included piano selections during the afternoon by Art Rafel, Mrs. Wolert and Mrs. William Englehart Jr. Mrs. Henry Loehr played several banjo numbers. Bids Expected To Be Called On Hospital Soon

Added Money Obtained; Board Is Meeting Friday Night

George Sellon, Sacramento architect in charge of plans for the new Tahoe Forest Hospital, reported this week that final plans for the new hospital here have been approved by the federal authorities and bids for construction may be called for within a short time.

In the meantime, the hospital board will meet tomorrow night to discuss final plans for the sewer disposal project, Charles R. Heller, president of the board, said.

Sellon said that George Latin, Grass Valley, Monday was awarded the contract to construct the new Loyalton hospital with a bid of $143,930 and that work is expected to start next Monday. The Loyalton unit is a ten-bed affair as compared with 12 for Truckee.

The architect said he has been successful in procuring additional allocations from the state and federal governments to assist in matching money from the local board to construct the hospital here.

Large Increase In June Travel Reported Here

Traffic through Truckee during June this year was 22 per cent heavier than for June of 1949.

This was reported by W. C. Gage, in charge of the state's quarantine station east of here on Highway 40. Gage said the June count, not yet made official, will exceed June of last year by 6,000 vehicles.

Thus far during 1950, each month has shown a considerable increase in travel entering California through Truckee, Gage said. During the weekend of the Fourth, the count has not been completed but is believed to be near a record, despite the fact that Monday broke a four-day holiday period.

Lumber Output Stepped Up; Other Materials Adequate

Despite continued shortages of construction lumber, fears of sharply rising home prices are being alleviated as production of other essential building materials continues in step with demand.

Another cheering fact for prospective home-owners is that even lumber supplies are beginning to show signs of becoming adequate for the mammoth need.

Until late in May, lumber production had been lagging behind orders by nearly 20 percent for most of this year. But in the last full week of May, output exceeded orders by 10½ percent, as reported by the National Lumber Manufacturers Association.

Shortages have been caused largely by poor weather in the Northwest, biggest lumber producing section of the United States, where severe snowstorms slowed operations in January and February.

Typical of the production pace of other building materials is the capacity rate at which asphalt roofing plants are being operated. Asphalt roofing manufacturers, the volume producers in the roofing business, are turning out enough of their colorful fire-resistant product to meet more than 80 percent of the nation's requirements.

Normally, about two-thirds of all asphalt roofing is used for reroofing. Now it is estimated that more than half is going for new construction.

2,000 EXPECTED AT TAHOE 4H CAMP DURING SUMMER

Nevada's 4-H Club camp at Lake Tahoe is a busy place all summer.

While the big activity at the camp grounds is the annual 4-H gathering, it is in constant use the remainder of the summer by Nevada and California youth groups and Nevada rural people.

Paul L. Maloney, camp director, estimated this week that well over 2,000 campers will enjoy the facilities at Tahoe by the end of the 1950 season. Maloney is assistant director for junior work of the University of Nevada agricultural extension service, which sponsors 4-H activities. The camp is open at all time to 4-H Club members from Nevada, their families and other rural people, he said. Many use the grounds at other times than during 4-H camp time.

Several other Nevada youth groups will hold their annual outings at the grounds. This year they include the Nevada Camp Fire Girls, the Reno Baptist youth group, Reno girls of the Latter Day Saints Church, and the children of the Nevada State Orphans' Home in Carson City.

When the camp is not used by Nevadans, it is occupied by youth groups from California. Members of 4-H from Sacramento, Susanville, Stockton and Fairfield will hold their annual outings at the Tahoe grounds this year. In addition, Latter Day Saints Church girls from Sacramento will camp there.

All campers pay a regular fee for use of the grounds which covers their share of the cost of maintenance.

SOUTH TAHOE POST OF LEGION WINS HIGH PRAISE

Reprinted from the California Legionnaire

TAHOE VALLEY— Lake Tahoe, nationally famed jewel of the High Sierra, is known across the nation for its majestic beauty and grandeur and for its perfection as a summer playground and winter ski-ground.

But little known is the fact that on its southern shores rests a living example of what the American Legion can and does so often in small communities throughout the nation. There rests the clubhouse of Post 795.

Lake Tahoe Post 795 is the result of the combined efforts of Legionnaires who wanted only the best for a clubhouse even though it was far removed from big population centers and its membership only 47.

First came Harvey West, lumberman in the vicinity and a Legionnaire. He donated the lumber —enough all-cedar footage to complete a building of more than 21,000 square feet.

In the trusses alone that eliminate posts in the big meeting room and dance hall is enough lumber to complete three mountain cabins.

Then came members of the Post—headed by John S. Lawson —to donate the labor. They gave for free $23,000 in labor to build the magnificent.

Lawson had been a member of Fort Sutter Post and Post 61, both of Sacramento, before he went to the High Sierra many years ago. He has been Commander of Lake Tahoe Post 795 twice.

As a testimonial of appreciation from the Department of California, Harvey West received recently at ceremonies in the new building the following citation: "Testimonial of Appreciation to Harvey West, whose generosity and desire to foster the good of the Legion made it possible for Lake Tahoe Post 795 to be endowed with one of the finest meeting and clubhouse facilities in California. (Signed) Lewis K. Gough, Department Commander."

One feature of the building's facilities is seven miles of wire running through the Sierra pines to hookup with Reno telephone lines for national radio hookup.

San Francisco was the second city in the world to have a telephone system, an historian asserts.

SUPERVISORS MOVE TO STOP WATER TO TAHOE RESORT

Ed Sahati, Stateline, Nev., resort owner, was under fire this week from the El Dorado County board of supervisors who moved to stop Sahati from taking water from the California side of Lake Tahoe.

The board maintains Sahati did not obtain a proper permit to install a water pipeline into the lake through an El Dorado County road. They have nstructed District Attorney Henry Lyon to notify Sahati that he must remove the pipeline because of the asserted irregularities in its construction.

Settlement of Idaho began with a gold strike in 1860.

Versatile Gal

Twenty-year-old Rosemary Rice is a lass with a tremendous amount of vitality — and with her double career, she needs every ounce of it. As second feminine lead in NBC's "When A Girl Marries," Rosemary has a busy radio career — while as Katrin, the elder daughter and narrator, on CBS's television drama, "Mama," she is involved in television up to her pretty ears. And obviously loves every minute of it.

TAHOMAN IS WED AT JUNE 25TH RITES IN ROSEVILLE

Paul Leslie White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. White of Tahoma, claimed as his bride Barbara Ann Romero at a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. W. C. McCalmont in the First Presbyterian Church at Roseville on Sunday, June 25.

The bride was attended by White's sister, Mrs. June Holt of Oakland, as matron of honor. Her two cousins, Joan Hyde White and Marilyn Hyde, were the bridesmaids. Jay C. Romero, father of the bride, gave her in marriage.

White's brother, Joseph White, served as best man. His brother in law, Jack Holt, and Donald E. Frye of Sacramento were the ushers.

A reception was held in the church social hall. The newlyweds will spend the summer at Tahoma and in the fall will make their home in Berkeley where White is a University of California senior.

The bride is the daughter of the Jay C.. Romeros, is a graduate of the Roseville Joint Union High School and Placer College.

WARREN IS LEADER IN ALL COUNTIES BUT ONE IN VOTING

SACRAMENTO— In every county of the state except one, Governor Earl Warren polled a greater vote than James Roosevelt in the recent primary election, the governor's campaign leaders announced.

The single county in which the governor trailed in total popular vote was Plumas and the margin against him there was only 144 votes.

In some other counties, unofficial returns showed margins approaching 3 to 1 for Warren. For the state as a whole, the official count is expected to show a popular majority for the governor of at least 700,000 votes on the Republican and Democratic tickets combined.

The governor held greater than a 3 to 2 lead in the combined vote in Los Angeles County. In San Francisco, where he won both the Democratic and Republican races, Warren's total vote was nearly 2 to 1 over Roosevelt.

Despite this encouraging majority, Governor Warren has made it known that he will conduct a vigorous campaign in the fall. He already has met with campaign chairmen of approximately 30 counties to lay preliminary campaign plans.

Plumas County, which stands alone in the Roosevelt column for this year's primary, also was the only county which did not return a majority for Warren in the 1942 general election, when he won his first term as governor. The 1942 margin was 189 votes.

Move Made to Thwart Fishing Bruin

MARKLEEVILLE— Biological fact: bears often fish for food.

Footnote from the California Division of Fish and Game: they occasionally imitate two-legged fishermen by taking more than the limit.

State Employees J. C. Fraser and Bruce Kimsey were dispatched to an Alpine County stream recently after three local cowpunchers reported a large brown bear flipping scores of trout on the bank.

Not able to give the playful bruin a citation for over-limits. the two division men took the easy way out. They netted all the fish in the stream and placed them in the protected waters of nearby Heenan Lake.

Fraser and Kimsey explained that the waters of Heenan Lake are closed to fishermen by commission regulation—and because of its depth—even to bears.

County Lags in Sales of Saving Bonds

Nevada County Savings Bond purchases have reached $21,591 in the current "Save Your Independence" drive, it is revealed by J. G. Tyrrell of Grass Valley, volunteer county chairman for the Treasury's U.S. Savings Bond program. The county's share of the $18,900,000 northern California sales goal is $34,200, which leaves $12,609 more in Series E Savings Bonds to be sold before July 17 when the Independence Drive period ends.

THRILLS AND SPILLS FEATURED AT SKI MEET SUNDAY

TAHOE CITY— Thrills and spills featured the first running of the annual Squaw Valley Summer Ski Derby on the 9,000 foot high slopes of picturesque Squaw Peak. A crowd of 500 spectators rode the resort's famous Sky Chair to the 8200 foot elevation, their colorful garb contrasting strangely against the snowclad mountain slope. A sudden rainstorm made the hard packed snow tricky and fast and provided the crow with unexpected thrills.

First place went to Jack Simpson of Squaw Valley Ski Club in perfect form in 44 seconds, with Wally Young of the Reno Ski Club a close second in 44.4 seconds. Others in succession followed—Dick Buek, Donner Racing Club, 46; Peter Lind, Middlebury Ski Club, 51.2; John Mortizia, Squaw Valley Ski Club, 59.2; David Fritschi, Squaw Valley Ski Club, 1:4.1; Dan Smith, 1:11.8; Frank Titus, Truckee Outing Club, 1:14.6; Paul Funkhouser, SVSC, 1:22.5; Tyler Micoleau, SV SC, 1:27.4; Lefty McDonough. Reno Ski Club, 1:27.6; Jim Baker, Lake Tahoe Ski Club, 1:27.9; Fred Holt, Lake Tahoe Ski Club, 1:48.8; Fritz Schwartz, SVSC, 2:08.85. Through a misunderstanding of the rules, Bill Finney of the Usequebaugh Ski Club of Salt Lake City and Kevin Hazel on the San Mateo Peninsula Ski Club failed to finish. A number of other entrants, including A. Frodenberg and B. Eagleson, failed to enter the contest.

Sandra Tomlinson of the Canadian FIS team took the women's slalom in 1:17.3 with Ruth Griffin of Donner Summit placing second in 1:49.5. Course setter was Stan Tomlinson, member of Emile Allais Ski School at Squaw Valley. Lee Warner, SVSC, was time keeper and recorder was Mary Lou Simpson.

An estimated crowd of 500 persons visited the resort on Sunday but did not attend the sky high slalom. Except for the brief shower, weather was perfect. Manager Alexander Cushing reports the resort enjoying a lively summer patronage and indicates an additional 40 rooms will be completed in the resort's Alpine Village by September.

PREPARING FOR ATOMIC WARFARE—The advent of the atomic bomb has presented many problems for all types of warfare. One solution is being developed by the Marine Corps by the use of transport helicopters for moving a landing force from ship to shore. Based on ships widely dispersed off-shore, helicopters can load assault troops, flying from different directions, circumventing powerful beach defenses and land accurately in any desired position. Above, landing party disembarks. Below, troops deploy while helicopters return to ships. Range, speed and mechanical limitations of helicopters are expected to be overcome by technical improvements.

SWANEE'S TAHOE LETTER

(Phone Tahoe City 359J)
Tahoe City, Calif.
July 3rd, 1950

Dear Tahoeites—

After an absence of eight months it really seems good to be pounding the old typewriter once again, bringing you the news of the Lake Tahoe region. Your correspondent is still suffering with a bad back, the result of a fall while back in Illinois, but will make every effort to bring you up to date on past and present news which I believe will be of interest.

First of all, I am pleased beyond words to be back in God's country, where fresh pine scented breezes keep the brow cool and the spirit peaceful. After temperatures of 100 to 104 degrees in Reno, the Sierra are a refuge beyond comparison and a convincing reason for the ever increasing popularity of the Truckee-Tahoe area. Needless to say, I am delighted to be back home again and herewith invite all our readers to phone me their stories for the columns of the Sierra Sun at their convenience. My phone number appears at the heading of the news letter.

Arrived back home with daughter Marie and little grandson, Billie Steenis, on Saturday night late from Reno and have been visiting ever since with friends and neighbors. I find a great deal of water has passed under the bridge of time since I departed and even though it may be a little late, I feel sure the townsfolk will welcome reading belated interesting events from time to time notwithstanding.

Two especially nice people who have moved away from Lake Tahoe and will be missed are Dr. and Mrs. George Clarke of Lake Forest. I met Jean in Reno some weeks ago and she was just recovering from a painfully wrenched shoulder, received while digging in their garden. She told me they had just completed erection of a new stone home in Reno near the Rodeo grounds, after having sold their Lake Forest home to Denis Sach and his new wife. Since Doc hasn't a chiropractor's license to operate in Nevada, he has been working as a painter, and enjoying the change. They found Tahoe winters too severe for comfort.

And today talked briefly with Glen Jackson whose dad is in charge at the Tahoe Campground State Park. He has been enjoying a brief vacation at Tahoe from Permanente Hospital in Oakland where he is an attendant in physiotherapy. Glen plans a long range study of at least seven years, his goal that of medical doctor, specializing in orthopedics. Here's wishing him the best of good luck.

Learned today that one of the Lake Tahoe Ski Club's ace skiers, Terry Tollefson, who has spent the past 15 months recuperating from a broken leg sustained during the American Legion's Sun Valley meet, has encountered more bad luck. Seems Terry was descending stairs at his home across the Truckee River at Big Chief Camp on his crutches, when he was thrown off balance and missed a stair, taking two stairs at a time. While he did not fall he did land with all his weight on his bad leg, still encased in a cast, thereby cracking the break open and adding at least another three or four months to his period of recuperation. I know the many friends of this area who have cheered him on through his long and plucky fight will add their sincere wishes to mine in praying for a speedy and complete recovery. Seems Lady Luck has certainly added insult to injury in permitting this latest mishap.

Stanley Bolton, assessor for Placer County in the Lake Tahoe area, underwent an operation last week in a bay area hospital and is reported well on the way to recovery. He is expected back at his Tahoe Park home within a few days.

Down at Sunnyside Lodge today, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stevenson and their daughter, Mrs. Ethel Severson, and her son Corky, all of Long Beach, arrived to occupy the Sears' summer home on the beach for the month of July. Little Corky, just three and a half years old, recently flew via Pan American Clipper, with his mom down to Honolulu to join his maternal grandparents for a vacation. An unusual and handsome child, he was the center of attraction and even received flattering offers from one of California's leading moving picture studios which wished to photograph him. He has had other movie, radio and television offers in the past but because of his extreme youth, his family is not interested. Corky's greatest thrill during his regular summer vacation at Tahoe is his daily riding lesson down at Bob Scates' stables on the Truckee River where his favorite mount, Hard Tack, carries him safely along the wooded paths in the gentlest fashion.

Two Tahoeites recently completed assessment work on their respective mines. One was Fred Manley of Tahoe Park, who has a hard rock quartz mine in Trinity County, and the other is Mrs. Imon Mitchell of Sunnyside. The latter had to resort to tactics of the old west when she drove in to find two claimjumpers brazenly operating on her placer gold mining property near Nevada City. She resorted to the old shotgun on the wall of her cabin to prove to the pair that she meant business when she invited them to leave in a hurry and found them reluctant to depart. Ore from Mrs. Mitchell's claim is reportedly the purest gold ever sent to the San Francisco mint from the Moore's Flat District. Accompanying Mrs. Mitchell on the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Webb of Tahoe Park, Mrs. H. L. Youman of San Francisco, house-guest of the Mitchells and little Imon Dale Mitchell. A rattlesnake with four buttons was killed just before the party left for the return trip to Tahoe.

Can't close my letter for the week without a word of comment on Squaw Valley's unique Sky Chair lift which I rode, in company with daughter Marie and grandson Billie, for the first time on Sunday at the invitation of genial Manager Alexander Cushing. It was one of the most thrilling rides I have ever experienced and one which everyone should enjoy sooner or later. Must admit I had butterflies in my tummy for the first half of the ascent but after getting accustomed to dangling in mid-air above the treetops each time the lift was stopped to take on or discharge passengers, I found the feeling of apprehension turning to a sensation of exhiliration as we soared, slowly and steadily through the warm summer breezes, above the towering pines and rocky formations where, rushing, snow fed Squaw Creek winds its way to the valley below. Was impressed by the number of small children and babes in arms who were passengers, all as unperturbed as though they were sitting in rocking chairs at home. The ride up the 8200 foot lift provides one of the grandest panoramas of the Sierra and Lake Tahoe conceivable. Courteous aid is given by the boys who operate the lift, and every precaution is taken to avoid accidents. We are told that 500 visitors rode the lift on Sunday to witness the first annual Squaw Valley Summer Ski Derby on the northern slope of Squaw Peak and another 500 visited the resort but did not attend the meet. A strange contrast was offered by the colorful garb worn by the summer visitors against the snowy mountain slope. Everyone enjoyed the unique derby and some rode down the icy slope on broad boards, using their feet to guide their course. Among the most active were District Attorney Fred W. Burton of Yreka, Siskiyou County and his wife who received honorable mention for their stellar performances. They were vacationing at Tahoe after having attended the district attorneys' convention at Tahoe Tavern.

Thrills and spills were offered by the contestants riding the sky high slalom course, where a sudden rain storm made the snow fast and tricky. Miss Pat Riley. Squaw Valley Resort's publicity director, provided the final results, which will be found elsewhere in the Sun today. Pat, who majored in journalism for several years at University of Nevada, is well known in the Donner, Truckee and Tahoe area, having been employed at Sugar Bowl in '49 and through the past winter season at Squaw Valley. She plans to remain the year around and predicts ever increasing popuplarity for the newest year-round resort with its already famous sky chair lift which operates 10:30 a.m. to 6;30 p.m. daily. Second stories are being added to buildings in the resort's Alpine Village which will afford 40 additional rooms for winter visitors.

Will ring off for this week and hope to have more current news from Lake Tahoe after my telephone has been connected this week. Good luck, good fortune and good news to you all.

As ever, SWANEE

Township Named For Long-Dead Metropolis; Time For A Change?

by DOUG BARRETT

The recent primary election reminded us in eastern Nevada County that we live in Meadow Lake Township. Grass Valley Township is around Grass Valley; Nevada Township is around Nevada City. Logical? Sure. But Truckee and Soda Springs—the only precincts in this neck of the woods—are in Meadow Lake Township.

Newcomers and those not familiar with said woods naturally ask, "Why Meadow Lake Township?" The body or water bearing that name lies well off the beaten path about 15 northwest of the most westerly precinct in the township bearing its name, Soda Springs—as "the crow flys" that is.

Meadow Lake in 1865 as a prospecting and real estate boom town with settlers moving into lots they had purchased for $25. The snows of winter sent many of them to lower altitudes.

The winter of 1865-66 was severe and snow continued into June. By the end of the latter month, however, 4,000 persons were in the town. Lots zoowed to $2500 in price and rent was often $200 a month for a tenement.

A stock exchange board was organized with 30 members, unique in that not a mine was in operation in the area. For a brief period in 1866 a newspaper was published there, apparently under the masthead of the Meadow Lake Sun.

Eight mills were constructed to reduce ore and a total of two million dollars was spent developing property that never produced the elusive yellow metal. In 1870 the city was almost deserted and a fire in 1873 completed the death of the town.

To avoid confusion as to why and wherefore, it seems to me it is high time our township was brought up to date and identified with some geographic factor more in keeping with its 20th century life. If it must be called after a lake, why not Donner Lake? Why not, for simplicity and to cover the summit as well, just call it Donner Township? Or, in symbolism of its position as a point of entry into California, Gateway Township?

Meadow Lake—a civic failure—was abandoned nearly 80 years ago. Isn't it time we brought our nomenclature up to date?

SYMBOL OF MILITARY MIGHT—This Flag of the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, in the language of heraldry, tells the story of America's postwar military might. The over-all theme is unity. The 13 stripes on the shield are the early colonies. The blue stripe above is Congress, forging the states into one nation. The American eagle clutches three golden arrows representing the Army, Navy and Air Force, striking as one. The upper triangle is blue and the lower white. The flag recently was presented to General Omar N. Bradley.

Trail Marker Back to Continue with Hobby

P. M. Weddell, retired San Jose professor, who for the past 35 years or so has visited Truckee annually in his hobby of perpetuating the old Emigrant Trail through the area, arrived this week for his customary work.

Weddell has installed signs for several miles over the course followed by the early California pioneers and these trails, designated by the visitor, have become almost universally accepted as the original trail. Weddell gained his knowledge of the route traveled by the emigrants from early historians and survivors.

Although no longer a young man, Weddell travels much of the difficult route on foot, replacing and remarking signs and adding a new mile here and there. He works alone on the project.

BANDING OF DUCKS BRING TO LIGHT MIGRATION FACTS

SAN FRANCISCO— Mallards yielded the highest rate of return of all ducks banded by the Division of Fish and Game at Tulare Lake between 1938 and 1945, according to information published in the latest "California Fish and Game Quarterly."

Three pintails were recovered eight years after banding. Most returns occurred during the year of banding or the following year. While ducks of other species banded at Tulare Lake were recovered from northern points of Alaska and Canada, Labrador, remote spots of Mexico and most sections of the United States, no mallards or shovellers were returned from outside California.

In cooperation with the U. S. Fish and Wild Life Service, the state agency bands waterfowl in an effort to learn more about migrations, life span and other biological habits.

Author Donald D. McLean of the Bureau of Game Conservation reported some conclusions from the 12-year banding program include:

The south end of the San Joaquin Valley appears to be a terminal area of a migration route;

The route does not extend into southern California or into Mexico;

That winter population of ducks in the San Joaquin Valley is, at least in part, separate from the Sacramento Valley population.

There was found to be a considerable movement of waterfowl from Tulare Lake to the Suisun marshes, the Delta region and the north San Joaquin Valley waterfowl areas.

An annual epidemic of botulism among ducks of the Tulare Lake Basin affected a larger percentage of birds each year from 1938 until 1941 and then dropped off to a very low figure in 1944. The disease had almost disappeared by 1945.

Of the 14,740 ducks picked up, 9,943 were banded and 1,169 eventually were returned. Species banded were fulvous tree ducks, mallards, cinnamon teals, blue-winged teals, green-winged teals, pintails, baldpates, gadwalls, shovellers, redheads and ruddys.

SOUTH TAHOE FOLKS SEEK TO FORM UTILITY DISTRICT

PLACERVILLE— A hearing is scheduled by the El Dorado County board of supervisors for 2 p.m. July 27 on a petition to proceed with the establishment of a public utility district at the south end of Lake Tahoe. The hearing was called by the board in response to a petition bearing signatures of 100 residents of the proposed district.

The area mentioned for inclusion lies along the lake shore and extends back for irregular intervals between the state line and the county camp ground west of the Bijou post office.

Such a district may concern itself with water development, health and sanitation, electrical power distribution, etc.

Similar districts are already functioning in the area at Truckee, Tahoe City, Kings Beach-Brockway and Donner Summit.

NAVY GIVES AIR FORCE CAPTAIN A GIANT CAKE—It doesn't make much news when a naval aviator makes a "thousandth" landing on a carrier. But when the Air Force does it, then it's news. Captain Curtis N. Metcalf, of Tatum, Texas, an exchange pilot, made the 22,000th landing on the Carrier Philippine Sea during exercise Portrex. In honor of the event the ship's bakers made him a 650-pound cake eight feet long. Rear Admiral M. T. Schoeffel (left), commander of Carrier Division 6, congratulates Metcalf. Then the entire ship's company enjoyed the king-size pastry.

HOW TO DO IT

Staking Out Building

This quick, easy and accurate method of staking out a building so that the corners will be true right angles is suggested in American Builder magazine. A hypothetical building measuring 30 by 40 feet is used as an example.

First, figure the diagonal of the building. The diagonal will equal the square root of the sum of the squares of any two adjacent sides. In this example, the diagonal is 50 feet.

Next, drive stake A to mark one corner. Drive a nail in the center of the top of the stake. Then place stake B, with a nail in its top, exactly 40 feet away. To establish the corner at D, measure 30 feet from B and 50 feet from A. For C, measure 40 feet from D and 30 feet from A. The diagonal from C to B should be 50 feet.

SUMMER THEATRE OPENS SEASON AT NORTH TAHOE

BROCKWAY— Northern California's only professional summer stock company got under way on July 5 at Playhouse in the Sky, Brockway, Lake Tahoe, with Garson Kanin's "Born Yesterday." Featuring Adele Cook and Brad Johnson, withe Anthony Franciosa, the hilarious comedy, which played for two years on Broadway, is directed by Byron Griffith. This is the Playhouse's first production in a season of eight shows.

A new production will open every Wednesday at the beautiful summer playhouse high in the Sierra. The fully professional theatre company of 20 hails from New York, Hollywood and San Francisco.

Playhouse in the Sky is a 400 seat Chautaqua theatre with a 40 by 24 foot stage.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—How can green wood be painted?

A—It's best not to paint green wood at all until it has dried thoroughly.

Q—How can an outdoor fireplace be kept from smoking?

A—Locate it so that the firebox opening is toward the direction from which the wind usually blows. This will provide a strong natural draft.

Q—How desirable is it to have a fire-resistant roof on a house?

A—Highly desirable. Sparks falling on flammable roofing is one of the chief fire hazards. If all homes were roofed with fire-resistant asphalt shingles, many thousands of fires would be prevented annually.

Q—Will turpentine help keep moths away?

A—Yes, although you won't want to apply it directly to clothing. A way to use it is to wipe closet floors with a rag moistened in turpentine.

Q—What is the whitish substance sometimes found on masonry walls?

A—This is "efflorescenes" and is caused by soluble salts in the masonry washing out through the joints. It frequently indicates that moisture is penetrating the brick or stone. To correct the trouble, consult a masonry contractor.

School Bus Drivers

SACRAMENTO— If the average motorist drove as carefully as the school bus driver, traffic fatalities would all but disappear, according to the California Highway Patrol.

During the last 15 months approximately 280,000 children were driiven to and from California public schools each school day without a fatal accident, the highway patrol reported. In the hundreds of thousands of miles driven, only 64 students were injured, two of whom required hospitalization, in 145 mishaps.

The highway patrol is responsible for the safe mechanical condition of some 4,300 school buses and also passes upon the qualifications of the drivers.

My Place In the Sun

With the mercury in the nineties, saw Don Sites working in the Sierra Pacific quonset.....shellacing snow shoes....Alex (Baldy) McLeod got right enterprising before the Fourth.....got a supply of American flags and installed them at various business houses which hadn't any displayed..... result, one of the best visible displays of patriotism I've seen in many a moon.....and I didn't overlook the cluster of six around Bob Buddle's door at the S. P. Hotel.....or the largest flag in the business section in front of the Riverside.....some foolish ones crack wise about "flag waving" but I think it's a pretty good habit to develope.....I do believe Bob Bick is the only man I know in town who clings to the old white detachable collars..... they do look neat and always fresh.....on Bob at any rate..... Truckee branch, Bank of America, sparkling internally with a new coat of pastel green and rose.....mostly applied over the 4th closing.....Sharon Pace off to spend a fortnight with Mary Carrau in San Francisco.....A couple of your neighbors, Mary Giovanonni and Gladys Dolley, happy to be out of the hospital and recuperating.....Glenn and Mildred Coffey driving home on Monday night in their brand new Pontiac sedan.....Al Wakefield manning the pumps at Osburn's Associated Station.....I know that Charlie and Pearl Heller occupy the apartment above Cabona's store.....so who's this "Murdock" whose name appears below their doorbell?.....Frank Quilici taking Mel Throop home to Kings Beach after he tried unsuccessfully to work with a painfully injured hip .....hope you mend soon, Turkey. The Nevada City Nugget in its recent and excellent Centennial Edition set forth some figures about our mutula county.....seems Nevada County is 75 miles long .....varies in width north and south from 10 miles over in these mountains in the east..... to 25 miles is the western sector .....contains about 1100 square miles.....and isn't much smaller in area than Rhode Island.....
